RESPONSE

1. The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner (OPCC) for Suffolk does not produce adapted or neurodivergence-friendly materials for neurodivergent individuals who are likely to come into contact with the Criminal Justice System.

The OPCC is however aware of material being developed by our commissioned service providers within this area which includes:

- Using Disability Forums to develop Neurodivergent Freedom Programmes.
- Adapting activities to be minded of sensory requirements and physical contact.
- Being more aware of higher levels of anxiety and need for clear communication.
