

How your money is improving policing in Suffolk in 2022/23

ISSUE 3: DECEMBER 2022

In January 2022, the Suffolk Police and Crime Commissioner published the Chief Constable's plans for the policing element of the precept increase for 2022/23. This report can be viewed on the PCC website. This document provides an update as to how this money is improving policing in Suffolk in 2022/23.

Chief Constable Rachel Kearton

As your Chief Constable I will continue to ensure that additional money from the increase in policing element of your council tax will be spent well.

This publication sets out how the Constabulary will use your money to improve the service provided by the Contact and Control Room. Suffolk Constabulary's Contact and Control Room staff deal with Police 999 emergency calls and more as well as managing operational resources and dealing with major and critical incidents. I am sure you will note that posts have and are being filled with further recruitment and training underway to deliver an improved service to our communities who are at the heart of all that we do. As a Constabulary we deal with emergency calls and high-risk incidents well and I continue to be immensely proud of the high- pressure work done by officers and staff in this team to keep you safe.

The Constabulary does however need to make contacting the Police easier and more efficient and effective and I acknowledge the level of dissatisfaction regarding the 101 non-emergency service. Calls for service are increasing in number and complexity, and it is vital everyone is properly assessed to ensure threats and risks to the public are properly addressed and that callers are provided with a professional service. This publication gives an overview of the advancement in our transformation and modernisation program within the contact and control service which are currently being delivered and is on track to improve service delivery through additional staff to improve performance.

The Constabulary is committed to deliver an improved service and I look forward to keeping you appraised of the continued progress of this transformation and modernisation program of work..

Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore

Last year, following extensive consultation with the previous Chief Constable, I made the difficult decision to increase the policing element of your council tax for this financial year. We agreed to direct every penny of the £1.4m investment to a major improvement of the Contact and Control Room (CCR).

It has been well documented that demands on policing are growing exponentially and it is essential that the CCR is adequately resourced and equipped to deliver a high-quality service. We need to ensure Suffolk continues to be a safe place in which to live, work, travel and invest. I will do everything in my power to achieve this and improve public trust and confidence in the force.

In all my public engagement the one thing that comes through loud and clear is the dissatisfaction with the non-emergency 101 service, so there was an urgent need to address this. As your PCC, I represent the public view, so it is important that I listen to your concerns and act on them.

In addition to the 27 staff and four officers funded through this year's extra council tax money, the national Operation Uplift programme will give us 72 more police officers in 2022/23. Over the three years of Operation Uplift, Suffolk Constabulary's establishment will increase by 179 officers; in addition to the 53 extra officers paid for by your council tax. This is very good news for Suffolk because it will help improve policing visibility countywide.

When I made the decision to increase the precept, I pledged to provide a quarterly update on the Constabulary's progress against the improvement plan. This is the third of these quarterly monitoring reports. I hope you find it informative.

Police & Crime Plan 2022-25 Objectives

The proposals set out in this document support the delivery of the PCC's Police & Crime Plan 2022-25. The Police and Crime Plan is structured around four key objectives which are fundamental to the role of the PCC. The plan gives the Constabulary the clarity it needs to take the PCC's vision forward and gives the public a clear picture of the PCC's objectives to make the county a safer place in which to live, work, travel and invest.

Objective 1: An efficient and effective police force for Suffolk

Objective 2: Provide services which support victims of crime and invest in initiatives which reduce crime and disorder

Objective 3: Engage with communities to understand their views about policing and crime and keep them informed and updated about the work of the PCC and the Constabulary

Objective 4: Work in partnership to improve criminal justice outcomes and enhance community safety

The Police & Crime Plan 2022-25 can be found on the PCC's website, www.suffolk-pcc.gov.uk/the-commissioner/police-crime-plan along with the performance framework which shows the reporting arrangements and activity to support progress.

The Contact and Control Room Transformation and Modernisation Programme

The Police & Crime Commissioner's precept investment of £1.4m precept within the financial year 2022/23 has been allocated to the Contact and Control Room (CCR) Transformation and Modernisation Programme.

The CCR at Martlesham Police Headquarters deals with 999 and 101 calls, managing necessary calls for service from partners and front-line resources. It is much more than a 'call centre' and is responsible for the command, control and deployment of resources and managing operational matters whilst protecting vulnerable people at time of crisis through to high-risk major and critical policing events.

Demands on policing are growing exponentially and it is essential that the CCR is properly resourced and equipped to deliver a high-quality service and ensure Suffolk continues to be a safe place in which to live, work, travel and invest. The importance of the CCR cannot be overstated as it performs a crucial service to the public, partners, and the Constabulary.

Suffolk Constabulary continues to face the challenge of bringing about improvements at a time of increased and more complex demand within the resources available. The organisation has undergone significant change over recent years. The focus remains on continuing to adapt, transform and improve our public service. To achieve this Suffolk Constabulary has commenced a CCR transformation and modernisation programme. £1.4m is necessary to invest in:

- making it easier and quicker for the public to contact Suffolk police
- improving 101 call answering and digital opportunities for multi-channel contact
- increased public confidence and satisfaction
- additional capacity to effectively manage threat, harm, and risk
